Questions To Be Developed

1. In connection with your statement that you were given drugs, can you develop that more fully?

2. What makes you think you were given any type of drug or chemical?

3. Do you recall a specific time when you were given drugs or chemicals?

4. How were these drugs or chemicals administered -- injection, in food, in drinks, as medicine, etc.?

5. Describe your feelings at this time -- physically and mentally.

6. Did you know specifically you were being given chemicals or drugs?

7. If answer to above question is affirmative, attempt to secure all possible information on type of chemical or drug; what it tasted like; method of administration, etc., etc.

8. Did any other of the men feel like they were being given drugs or were doped?

9. Did you discuss the situation with any of the other POWs?

10. If so, what were their reactions and did they state they felt they had been drugged?

11. Do you know their names?

12. Any details along the lines set out above that can be developed will be of considerable assistance and any suggestions or leads that [redacted] may have will be appreciated. H

NOTE: If significant facts are obtained along these lines, a strong effort should be made to convince the subject that the matter is not too important and that the subject should not discuss it with other individuals.
