SUBJECT : Comments

1. I admire these people for their patience in trying for three years to get something definitive. I wonder why they neglected to include reproductions of the polygraph charts used for their analyses. It would be real exciting if I could do any better.

2. [redacted] called and gave a bibliography reference for parapsychology. I have requested it. He also said a man named [redacted] from NIMH called and asked him if he knew of anyone in the US working in parapsychology. [redacted] referred him to [redacted]

3. It may be worth considering that psychokinesis occurs via an energy "exchange" or communication between the experimenter and the object. Then assuming it is some form of energy, experiments can be performed to make a systematic investigation into what form of energy (thermal, radiative, etc.) is involved. I suppose a term like "coupling energy" might be introduced when some success is indicated.
