Special Oscilloscopic Device

Reference is made to your notation concerning the [redacted] B which manufactures an electronic device for recording of speech characteristics.

There is a possibility that this device may have application to work being conducted by I&S. It is believed that this device might also be applicable to some aspects of OSO and TRD activities.

It is recommended that arrangements be made for a demonstration of this equipment with the interested personnel of the Agency present to determine whether or not this machine may actually be of benefit.
