Side Tone Delay

REFERENCE: Internal [redacted] Memorandum on the subject with routing slip dated
G 22 October 1951.

G 1. I am returning the original, and an extra copy of the enclosure, of the internal [redacted] memorandum pertaining to "Side Tone Delay", which you so kindly sent to me sometime ago. You might wish to advise the individuals in your office, interested in this matter, that we have been carrying on negotiations with the
B [redacted]. Although the final details are yet to be determined, we have approval of the Project Review Committee for a
C project in the amount requested by [redacted]

2. There are several ways in which this device might be used for other operational purposes and should anyone in your office be interested in this, I shall be glad to discuss it with them directly. I am sure that any such developments could be included in the present project or in additional projects with the same contractor. Thank you again for the papers and I will wait to hear of your further interest in the matter. I have retained a copy of your memorandum because of the useful background information contained therein.
