The attached reel of tape is a recording of the period of fantasy described in above reference. Subject was asked questions about which there was doubt from 1919 to the present time. The key question concerned his being a true double agent rather than knowingly operating with us with the knowledge of the [redacted]. No discrepancies were found between the versions given previously to us and those while under influence of drugs.

The tape is recorded at a very low sound level and is of low fidelity. Reproducing methods here do not permit reconstructing it verbatim. It is forwarded for the record with the recommendation that time not be taken to transcribe it.
