Source Lead, Guide [redacted] - Brucella Bacteriophage

1. We checked this requirement with Dr. [redacted], who has recently returned from a tour of all major pharmaceutical companies in Western Europe. He did not encounter anyone doing research with Soviet brucella bacteriophage but suggested that Dr. [redacted] of the [redacted] had the proper connections to get it. Dr. [redacted] visited the USSR in late 1956 at their invitation and visited various research organizations. He brought back several specimens with him and is believed to be corresponding with Soviet scientists. If so, he possibly could obtain a sample of brucella bacteriophage without arousing suspicions of ulterior motives.

2. We also met Mr. [redacted] He went to Europe last year too. Based upon our experience with [redacted] this firm might have a greater potential than appears on the surface as cross licensing agreements give them access to much research being done by foreign firms.
